“ My precious Momma, it's been said that "It gets easier with time." I don't find that to be true! I miss you so much and think of you nearly every day! You are as current in my mind as you have always been and I so miss everything about you! Your wisdom, hugs, voice, conversation, fellowship sessions, smell, touch and just being present with you! I know you are home, happy, healed and wholly fulfilled but boy it's a lonely place here without you.... Until I see you again in the sweet bye and bye.... I love you and miss you my dear Momma 🌹

Oh my dear Momma. If only I could see you again, the hug would be so tight. To have you wipe my tears away as you have so many times.. I miss you so so much and my heart feels such an emptiness with out you here. I know with all that is in me that you are with Our Heavenly Father and reunited with all who have gone before you. With that knowledge, I have peace! I love you so much and know that one day we'll be together again, so until that day... I will speak your name, think of you with heartfelt memories and hold you tight in my heart. Forever loving you my precious Momma ❤️ your "baby girl"
