“ Ryan was the most grateful person I've ever known. He appreciated all the loving care provided to him by his family and was not one to complain about the physical limitations that were brought on by muscular dystrophy. I recall him saying he loved his life and he wanted to live. He was one of the oldest survivors with Duchenne Muscular Dystrophy which I attribute to the loving care he received from his family and his desire to live, living decades longer than is typical with this type of muscular dystrophy. He will be greatly missed by his family. I'm grateful to know that he knew Jesus and is in Heaven, with a totally healed body, running free. I will see him again one day.
